

HARVARD WON
TWO EVENTSVarsity Four and Freshmen
Eight in Thames

VARSITY EIGHT TO-NIGHT

The Four-oared Event Went to the Crimson by Six Lengths, While the Harvard Freshmen Eight Had a Picnic.

New London, Conn., July 1.—Harvard was triumphant on the Thames to-day over Yale, when the "Bull Dog" crews of the varsity four and freshmen eight from New Haven were outclassed. The four-oared Harvard crew led all the way over the course, winning by six lengths fifteen lengths. Harvard's time was 14:30, while Yale's was 15:45.

In the freshmen event Yale's eight led at the start but was caught by Harvard at the end of the first eighth mile. Harvard then pulling away and winning by a fifth of a length. Harvard's time was 11:21:30, while Yale's was 11:22:45.

The Harvard freshmen in the final event were laughing at Yale. The Harvard freshmen crossed the line with a long easy stroke and sat in their shells, splashing the water and joining in a tremendous Harvard yell. As the Yale freshmen pulled up the Harvard crew joined lustily in the yell for Old Eli.

The Thames was stirred into ripples by a southwest wind but the weather conditions otherwise were favorable. The coaches expected that the conditions would be just also for the varsity eight event this evening. Both crews for the big event were confident, and the betting was 5 to 4 on Harvard.

The Harvard men found that in two lesser events of the late afternoon yesterday they had won both. These were the gentlemen's eights for the Graves cup, which Harvard won in one and a half lengths, the half mile stretch being covered in 2:25. Over the same water the substitute freshmen three races were also won by Harvard by a quarter of a length in 2:48. Yale had been unable to fill the crews for four and so it was agreed to make in a shell. The victory today by Harvard in the gentlemen's eights was the fourth for the Graves cup and one more will bring permanent possession.

Two Quakes Topped Down Remainder of Standing Walls in Messina.

Messina, July 1.—The inhabitants of the village which is now growing out of the destroyed town were alarmed to-day when two severe earthquakes demolished all the standing walls remaining and several shanty-houses which had been recently erected. Many people were struck by falling debris, but none was fatally injured. The shocks were felt through Calabria.

WILSON CONFESSES
THE POLICE ASSERT

Arrested at Holyoke For Wilmington
Officers.—He Implicates Two Others Who Are Also Taken Into Custody.

Holyoke, Mass., July 1.—John Wilson was arrested yesterday by Inspector Peter Cullen and Frank Metcalf on the charge of the burglary of a Wilmington, Vt., jewelry store last Saturday night. A considerable quantity of plunder alleged to have been stolen by Wilson was found in the room that he occupied on High street.

The man had been watched as a suspicious character for a day or two. When the officers entered his room about 9 in the morning Wilson made a dash for the rear door and escaped. Inspector Cullen boarded a Springfield car, believing that he would make for that city, and overhauled the man, who had boarded a train and was opposite the baseball park when overtaken. The man leaped from the train and was chased by the inspector for several hundred yards before being caught.

On being examined in the police station he confessed to having broken into the store of O. O. Ware of Wilmington and stolen the jewelry, a large quantity of which was found in his room.

William Sullivan of 96 Maple street and Elmer Tenney of 32 Hamilton street were arrested pending an examination on account of statements made by Wilson. The Wilmington authorities have been notified.

ROPE IS MISSING.

That and Mar's Disappearance May Indicate Suicide.

Colchester, July 1.—Further developments in the case of the mysterious disappearance of the Norwegian farm hand, H. B. Fildes, point strongly to suicide. Mr. Fildes discovered yesterday morning that his cat had not taken a cent with him and that he had left his razor, $2.75 in a pocketbook, and his every day pair of trousers. The latter were rolled up with his suspenders and thrown into a coal bin. A car receipt showed that the man's name was Olea Christopher. This with the small amount of money was found in his best suit of clothes.

By far the most suspicious circumstance connected with his disappearance is the fact that a coil of rope about 10 feet long is missing. It is feared that Olea's body is hanging in the woods and a thorough search will be made. Officers incline to the theory of drowning.

Olea was 39 years old, sober and industrious and had been in excellent health the past year.

POUNDED UPON DYNAMITE.

Employees at Crowley Quarry Received Severe Injuries.

Concord, N. H., July 1.—David Piper and William Putnam, employed in the granite quarry of Patrick Crowley at West Concord, were severely injured yesterday by a delayed explosion of a charge of dynamite.

The two men had charged a dynamite blast in a ledge and retired to await its explosion. Supposing that all of the dynamite had been exploded, they returned and were engaged in drilling into the ledge, when there was an explosion of considerable force directly beneath them. Putnam, who was holding the drill, was badly burned about the head and face, while Piper, who had been striking upon the drill with a heavy hammer, received a severe blow upon the forehead, either from the hammer or the drill, resulting in a gash two inches in length.

It is supposed that a portion of the dynamite charge was unexploded and that it was set off by a blow from the drill.

Dr. G. H. Quinn was called and attended to the injuries of the two men, which, though severe, are not believed to be serious.

NEW YORK POLICE
GET A SHAKE-UP

Mayor McClellan's Order For Removal
Pertains to Two High Officials in Brooklyn.

New York, July 1.—After an investigation which began just a month ago yesterday, Mayor McClellan last night ordered one of the most severe shake-ups in the history of the New York police department. The upheaval comes with the mayor's decision in favor of George B. Duffy, the Brooklyn boy, whose picture and measurements have been retained by the police, although the boy had never been convicted of felony or misdemeanor. The finding is a victory for Wm. J. Gaynor of Brooklyn, a justice of the state supreme court through whose letters the Duffy case was brought to the mayor's attention.

Justice Gaynor, who has been prominently mentioned for mayor in the coming municipal elections, was subsequently used for libel by Police Commissioner Theo. Bingham, who asks $100,000 damages. He bases his suit on Judge Gaynor's open letters in the Duffy case.

In his decision yesterday Mayor McClellan not only ordered the Duffy boy's picture and measurements removed from the rogues' gallery, but he censured Commissioner Bingham for his administration of the police department in Brooklyn and directs the removal of two important police officials. These commands are to be carried out within 12 hours after their receipt.

The mayor's orders are primarily to restore the former police administration in Brooklyn under a deputy commissioner. Some time ago it was reduced to the rank of a precinct with a professional policeman in charge. This the mayor brands as an absolute failure.

The officers to be removed, if the mayor's orders are carried out, are fourth deputy commissioner, Bert Hanson and Daniel Slattery, Mr. Bingham's secretary.

ALL JOHNSON'S WAY.

But His Defeated Opponent Is Anxious For Another Mill.

Pittsburg, July 1.—Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight champion of the world, outboxed Tony Ross of Newcastle, Pa., in a six-round contest last night, given under the auspices of the National Athletic club at Duquesne Gardens. While the bout was declared a draw, on account of the state law prohibiting a decision in boxing tournaments, public opinion willingly conceded that Johnson had the better of the go from start to finish.

It was a fast fight, both men being active during the entire six rounds. Johnson, while not in the best of condition, showed form in the fighting and landed effectively. The audience shouted wildly whenever Ross landed a telling blow, but hooted Johnson for his apparently rough work in the clinches.

Referee Jimmy Time said after the fight that Ross did remarkably well in the face of the fact that Johnson had the advantage of him in weight and height.

Johnson declined to talk after the mill, while Ross anxiously begged for another opportunity to meet the colored fighter.

Johnson maintained his reputation of being a shrewd business man by securing his $2,000 guarantee from the managers of the National Athletic club during the afternoon.

TO MAINE BRIDE.

Alexander A. Stewart of Graniteville
Married Last Evening.

Portland, Me., July 1.—There was a Highland wedding, the first in the state, it is said, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Macdonald, 36 Waterville street, last evening.

The groom was Alexander A. Stewart of Graniteville, Vt., and the bride Miss Christine McLeod of Scotland was maid of honor and Kenneth MacMillan was best man. The bride was given away by Angus K. Macdonald, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Wright.

The affair was brilliant from a Highland point of view. There were killed men, and when Mr. and Mrs. Stewart left the house the pipes played and the guests cheered. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will live at Graniteville.

TO CHELSEA

But Victim Lived Long Enough to Settle up Affairs

AND ARRANGE FUNERAL

Richard Kennedy, Although Suffering Intensely from Peritonitis, Went so Far as to Select Bearers for His Funeral.

Chelsea, July 1.—The funeral of Richard Kennedy, who was fatally kicked by a horse, was held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock from his late home, the Rev. Fred Daniels officiating. The bearers, who had been selected by Mr. Kennedy shortly before his death, were his son, Eugene H. Kennedy, Norris L. Lucas, Fred C. Waldo and Fred G. Blake. The interment was in Highland cemetery.

Mr. Kennedy was kicked by the horse on Monday afternoon, June 21, and he lingered along, suffering great agony, until Monday of this week, death coming at midnight to relieve him from the intense pain of peritonitis, resulting from the kick. Mr. Kennedy was conscious until the last few hours and during the week in which he had been suffering he settled up all his business affairs and arranged for the funeral.

He was well known in this community and highly respected, being a kind husband and father, a staunch friend and a good neighbor.

READING MURDERER
GIVEN A LIFE TERM

F. Gimmello Convicted of Slaying a
Compatriot After a Short Trial.

Sentenced to-day.

Woodstock, July 1.—Francesco Gimmello, who had been convicted of murder in the second degree in killing Castellini Peppino in Reading on June 21 was today sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison at Windham. The jury arrived at a verdict at 8:20 last evening after two and a half hours' deliberation.

The taking of testimony was concluded early in the afternoon session of Windham county court with arguments by State's Attorney Buck and Attorney General J. G. Sargent for the state. E. R. Flinn of Springfield followed for the defense and Judge Hall gave the case to the jury at 5:45 o'clock.

Fiorio Marro of Proctorville was the first witness in the morning. He took the stand and testified that he saw the respondent to the Reading murder case on a former trip some weeks before the tragedy and heard the quarrel between the woman, Lucia Garaldi, and Gimmello who was trying to induce her to leave Peppino and live with him.

Daniel Searns, a farmer of Reading, testified to some of the incidents of the tragedy. He saw the struggle from some distance and saw the body of Peppino in a pool of blood on the floor of the shanty.

The respondent was the only witness for the defense. He told of previous trouble with the dead man and had made several trips from Manchester to Reading, not seeking Peppino's life but to secure some papers in a suit in which he, Peppino, and the woman were interested. Coming to the tragedy the respondent said he was attacked by Peppino, thrown down and stabbed him later in self defense.

Pittsburg, July 1.—Fifteen plants with a total capacity of 19 pot mills were crippled or entirely tied up at midnight last night by the strike order that went into effect in the Union Steel corporation, according to claims made by the officials of the Amalgamated association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. The total number of men on strike is estimated at 7,000.

The strike is the outcome of the open shop order posted four weeks ago by many of all the mills throughout West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

Miss Eva Ackerman of Barre City was a recent guest of her cousin, Mrs. B. H. Adams, Jr.

Fred A. Ordway is in Barre City this week looking after real estate interests there, and is also visiting his daughter, Mrs. Earl E. Parker.

FRIENDS HONOR
AGED COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Batchelder
Married 65 Years

IT WAS UNUSUAL EVENT

A Party in Their Honor Was Held at the
I. O. O. F. Hall in Plainfield Last Night, when Couple Received
Many Friends.

Plainfield, July 1.—A very unusual event occurred at the I. O. O. F. hall last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Ira Batchelder celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary. Fiftieth anniversaries are somewhat rare, but an event of this nature is almost unheard of. Mrs. Charles Scott of Barre, sister of Mrs. Batchelder, who is the only witness living who was present at the ceremony 65 years ago, was present last evening.

Five great grandchildren of the honored couple were among the large number of relatives who gathered for the celebration and to extend congratulations last evening. A program was given, consisting of music by the Plainfield Military band, remarks by the Rev. Percin B. Fiske and Rev. A. N. Hewitt, selection by the male quartet, reading by Harle Heath and song by Miss Marjorie Cate. The program was very much enjoyed, being given in a capable manner. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder were presented a purse of money from their many friends. Mr. Batchelder is 87 years of age and notwithstanding the advanced years he is quite sprightly and makes frequent visits to neighboring cities and towns. His wife is 82 years of age.

TRIED TO SWIM AWAY.

Searborough Man, However, Could Not Escape Arrest.

Bennington, July 1.—Andrew Whitcomb, the Searborough man, for whom a warrant was issued by the Vermont state police, was arrested here Tuesday night by Constable George Briggs and lodged in jail. Whitcomb was arrested in Readsville by Constable M. O. Hicks of that town. He was discovered on a Hoosier River and Wilmington railroad train and when the officer attempted to serve his warrant Whitcomb made a break for liberty, and swam through a canal supplying power to the Readsville box factory but was caught on the other side by some of the factory employees and turned over to the officer. He will not save his hearing until after the result of Bishop's injuries are ascertained.

FOUND INFANT CHILD
ON HIS DOORSTEPS

J. J. Thompson of St. Albans Was Very Much Surprised when He Started for His Business This Morning.

St. Albans, July 1.—Officers are busy to-day trying to locate the person or persons who abandoned an infant male child on the front steps of J. J. Thompson of North Main street this morning. When Mr. Thompson left his home at six o'clock to go to his place of business, he saw a package on the steps. It looked like a shirtwaist box, and in the top was a hole. Mr. Thompson examined the package more minutely and found something inside wrapped in a newspaper. Opening the newspaper, he uncovered the child, which was wrapped only in a piece of cloth.

The Thompson family is away at the present time and Mr. Thompson notified Sheriff G. C. Holmes of his discovery and the latter at once began work on the case. The infant was taken to the Velden home at first and later to the St. Albans hospital by Overseer of the Poor Jarvis. The child is about 24 hours old and seems to be healthy.

There is no clue as yet to the one who left the child. It was reported that a woman with a child was seen walking on Main street at about midnight last night, but finally the person reporting this decided that the child was somewhat older than the waif found on Mr. Thompson's steps.

Mr. Thompson runs a licensed saloon in this city and is well known throughout the state. He was one of the Vermont delegates to the last Democratic national convention at Denver.

SIMILAR OPINION

In McFarland & Boyce Case as That Handed Down in Perry & Scribner's.

An opinion has been handed down by the Vermont supreme court in the "spring water case" of City of Barre vs. McFarland & Boyce, which is identical with that recently handed down in City of Barre vs. Perry & Scribner. The decision prohibits the defendants from extending their water mains in this city, but allows making new connections on old mains. The opinion was rendered yesterday afternoon.

Other opinions are as follows:

State vs. George McClellan, from Chittenden county, judgment that there was no error in the proceedings in lower court, and the respondent takes nothing by his exceptions. McClellan is serving two years in state prison for the larceny of $880.

Frank J. Libby vs. Canadian Pacific railway, from Orleans county, an appeal from the decision of the board of railroad commissioners, previous order of the board is vacated, the plaintiff is sustained in his petition, and the matter is again referred to the board, now the public service commission.

Carpenter vs. Gibson, book account, from Caledonia county. Judgment of the lower court in favor of the plaintiff is affirmed.

Hunt vs. Holman, from Orange county, slander, judgment of the lower court, awarding the plaintiff $400 damages is affirmed.

James vs. Adams and Adams vs. James, from Franklin county, heard together. Judgment reversed in the first case and petition dismissed in the second.

State vs. Morrissey, from Bennington county, judgment of lower court for the defendant to recover his costs in a search and seizure case is affirmed.

State vs. Elharan Andrews, from Washington county. Exceptions sustained, sentence suspended and cause remanded. The respondent was sentenced to jail for six months for furnishing.

H. B. Wedge, administrator of the estate of Israel Guilford, from Washington county. Judgment of the lower court awarding the plaintiff $2,000 is affirmed.

Barber vs. Vinton, trespass, from Windham county. Judgment of the lower court reversed and cause remanded.
